

Free verse poetry by Calmness group

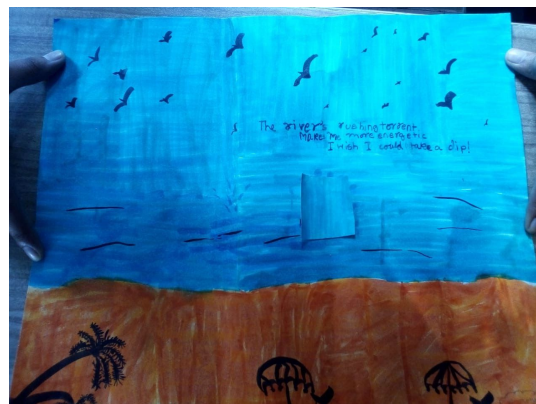

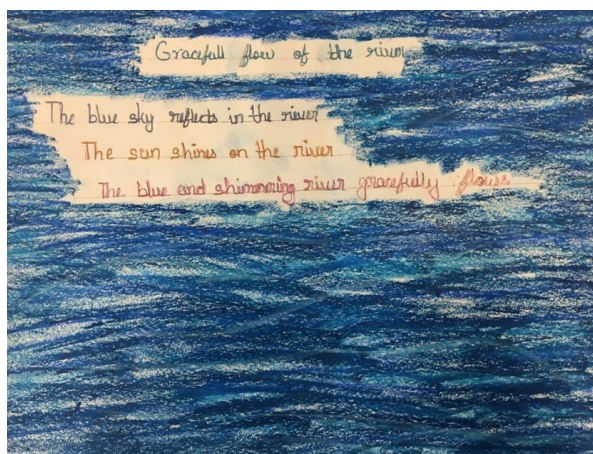

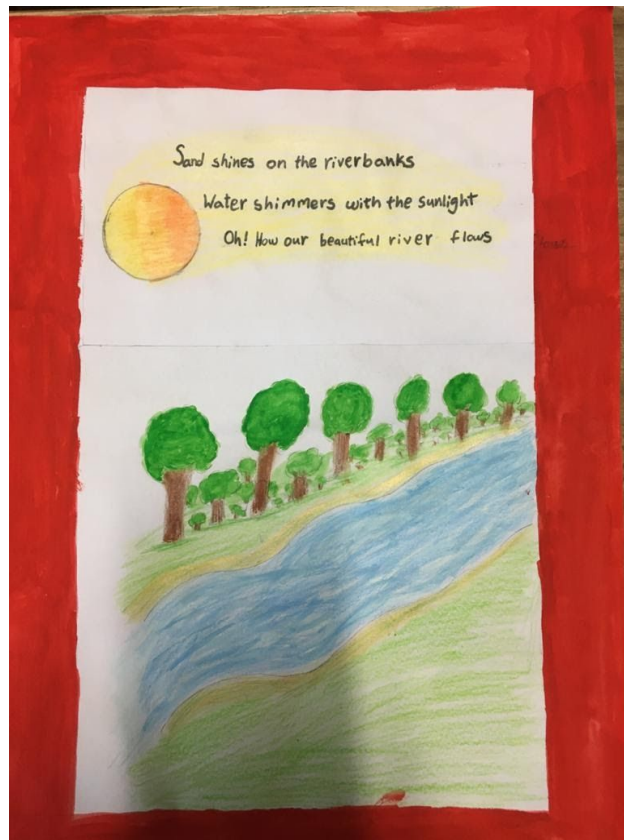

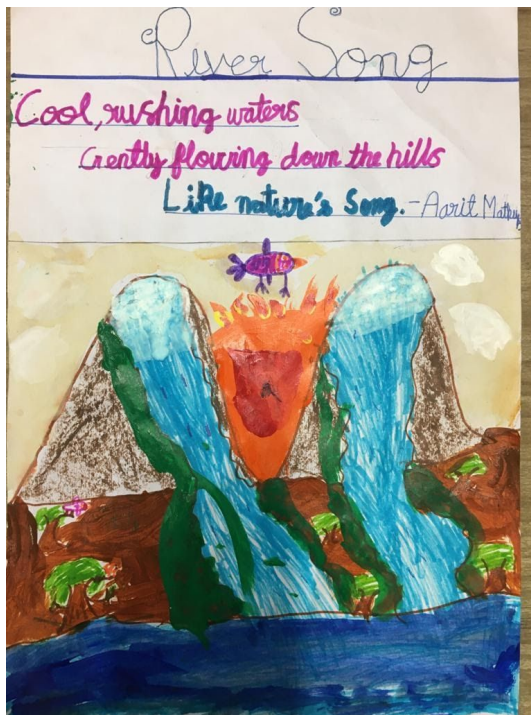

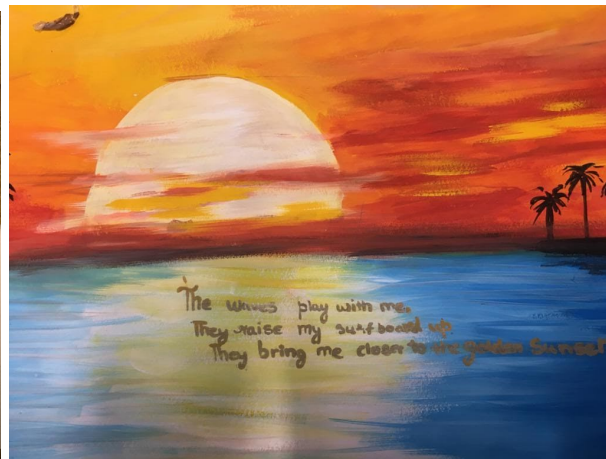

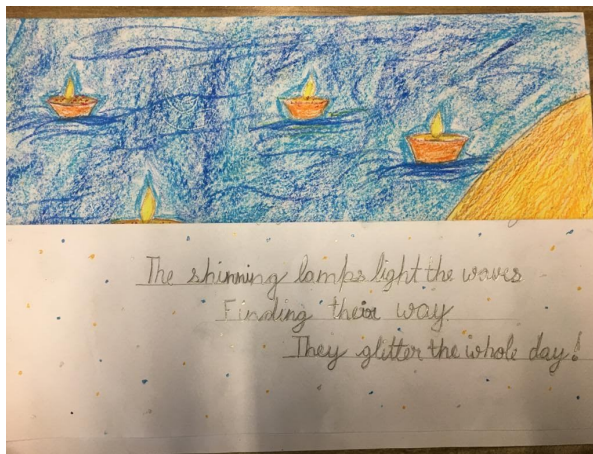

Calmness group learners have written food blogs:

Haiku Poetry:

Idioms

- 1) As rich as Croesus = A wealthy king.
Nate is as rich as Croesus.
- 2) A rich man's joke is always funny = If a rich man says a joke everyone will laugh because it's said by the rich man. But if a poor man will say a better joke no one will laugh.
- 3) Be all part of life's rich tapestry = A phrase that encourages of the enjoyable things that happen in life.
- 4) Be stinking rich = being extremely rich, having so much money that one's wealth is disgusting or offensive.
- 5) Grumbs from the rich man's table = An unfair and inadequate or unsatisfactory share of something.

IDIOMS

- 7) filthy rich - Used to imply that a person's wealth is excessive or offensive -
S - I happen to know that the boy is filthy rich and can well afford to compensate you.
- 8) It is better to be born lucky than rich -
you may lose all your money, but if you are born lucky, you will always get what you need or want just by chance.
- 9) One law for the rich and another for the poor - Said when a rich person has not been punished for something a poor person would be punished for.
- 10) Poor little rich boy or girl - A wealthy young person whose money brings them no contentment.
S - Frown is a poor little rich boy.
- 11) Strike it rich - To become wealthy very quickly -
S - She struck it rich when she got the prize.

POLYSEMIC WORD

Ring

Meaning - A circular object you wear on your finger.

Sentence - She has a ring on her finger.

Meaning - The sound comes from phone when someone calls.

Sentence - My phone rings very loudly.

Meaning - A circular object to play with.

Sentence - Rohan plays with the rings.

Meaning - When you hear something no one has said or when you are overhearing.

Sentence - My ears are ringing.

Example

Swagun Academy

Grammar worksheets

Lani 11/12/2019

A. Choose the correct verb for each of the sentences by using the subject-verb agreement rule.

1. Antara and her brothers ~~is~~ are at school. ✓
2. Either my mother or my father ~~is~~ are coming to the meeting. ✓
3. The dog or the cats ~~is~~ are outside. ✓
4. Either my shoes or your coat ~~is~~ are always on the floor. ✓
5. Aman and Tina ~~doesn't~~ don't want to see that movie. ✓
6. Bhuvan ~~doesn't~~ don't know the answer. ✓
7. One of my sisters ~~is~~ are going on a trip to France. ✓
8. The man with all the birds ~~live~~ lives on my street. ✓
9. The movie, including all the previews, ~~take~~ takes about two hours to watch. ✓
10. The players, as well as the captain, ~~want~~ wants to win. want
11. Either answer ~~is~~ are acceptable. ✓
12. Rajat ~~studies~~ study each night. ✓
13. Rohit ~~drive~~ drives a nice car. ✓
14. His friends ~~studies~~ study each night. ✓
15. The police officers ~~drive~~ drives fast cars. ✓
16. Two hundred rupees ~~is~~ are the price of a movie ticket these days. ✓
17. ~~Is~~ Are the tweezers in this drawer? ✓
18. Your pants ~~is~~ are at the cleaner's. ✓
19. There ~~was~~ were fifteen candies in that bag. Now there ~~is~~ are only one left! ✓
20. The committee ~~debates~~ debate these questions carefully. ✓
21. The members of the committee ~~leads~~ lead very different lives in private. lead

Use appropriate punctuation to complete the following paragraph

Rohit's countenance changed with even more glee and anticipation as he had never thought of actually baking a cake before. Now he was curious to know how to make one. Before he could ask dad anything, dad asked him if he would like to join him in making one together after school. Rohit excitedly thought to himself, 'Wow, what an adventure this could be.' And the cherry on top of the cake was that he knew how great a cook his dad was. As the school bus approached, dad indicated to him that they would talk about it later and that he should get on the bus. Rohit obliged and got on. Rohit was brimming with happiness as he walked to his seat and kept grinning like a Cheshire cat, which made his friends a little uneasy as they knew Rohit was a mischievous fellow and always had a prank or two up his sleeve. Little did they know, Rohit was immensely content from within and instead of spilling the beans and telling everyone he opted to take a catnap in the bus, surprising his friends.

Sentence Structure Exercise

The words in the following sentences are mixed up. Try to figure out the correct sentence and write. Each word will only be used once. An example has been given below.

1. try do We our to homework

We try to do our homework

2. bed go He early to did not

3. ball she tennis hit the hard Does ?

4. went the The store to girl buy pen a to

5. with Take walk a dog the

6. you and can go Finish bed homework to then your

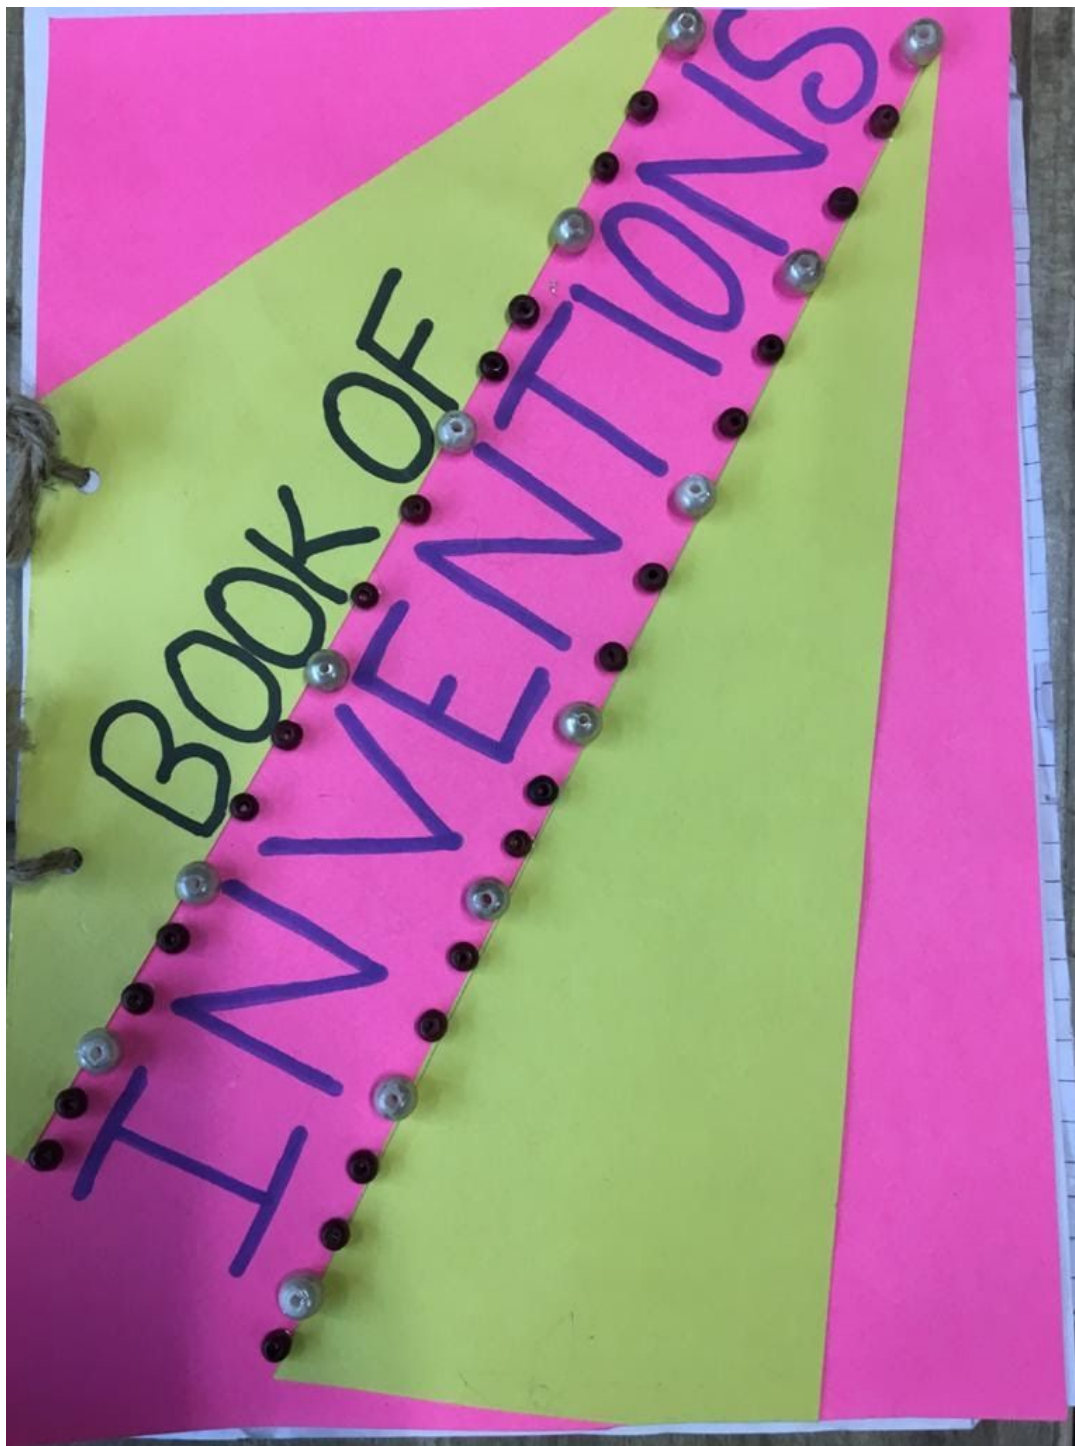

7. school going new for clothes shopping they Are ?

8. movies going were the to We not

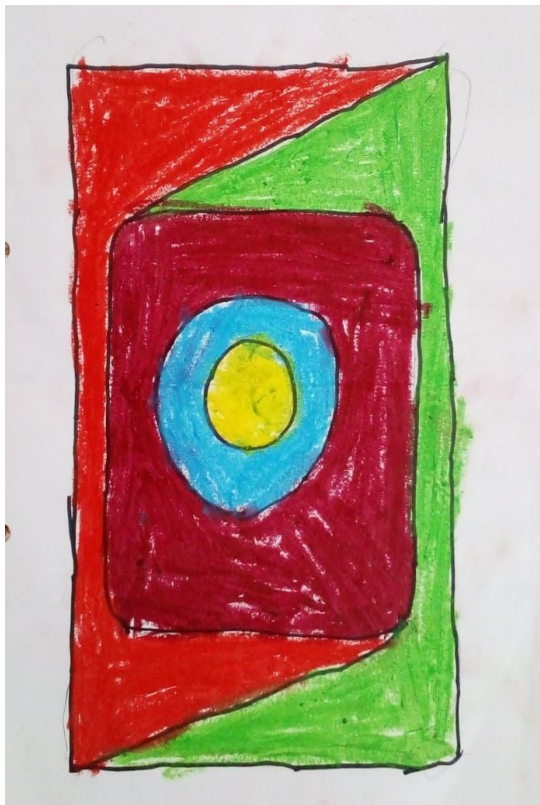

9. can swimming only two hours We go after

10. woman her The dinner ate quickly

The children described imaginary inventions and weaved stories around them in the following book:

Invention Story:

MINI CONTROLLER

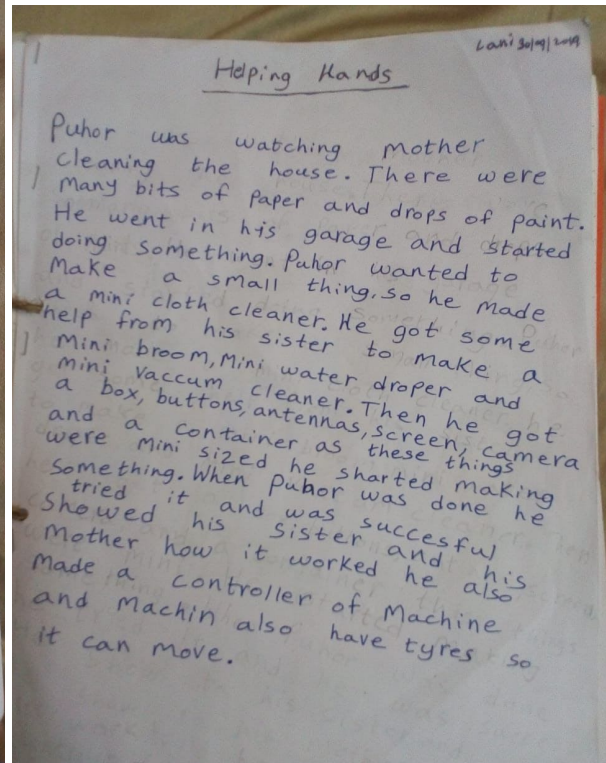

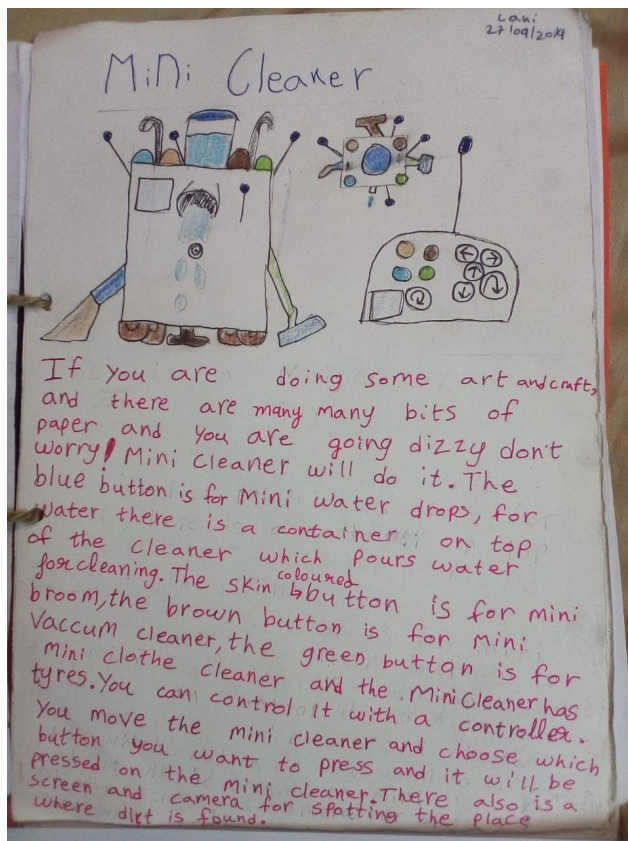

The mini controller is a very useful thing. It is small, strong, hightech and very interesting. This is very cool and very technical. You can't believe it. And the thing was invented a long ^{time} ago. The mini controller ^{does any} job in which we have to control something like a metro or a car etc. So the mini controller helps control all the things like petrol cars, buses etc. It makes the job easier by controlling machines for human beings.

Mini Controller

In 1969, there was a state called California. It was very crowded and there was a man whose name was Zack and his job was a train driver and he worked 7 hours every day so he was very tired and stressed. One day he decided to invent ^{something} that controls a vehicle or ^{something} like that. So every day when he came back he spent those hours on it and after 10 years he was done with his experiment. He tested the invention on his car and it was successful. He went to the train parking and put his device on the train and he named the device mini controller. He sat in his train, the train started and it was successful 100 percent. Then when he reached the first station, the station master was surprised when he saw train running automatically. He called the other station ^{too} masters and all of them were surprised. Then one of them called the head boss of the Railways and told him about ^{the} mini controller. The head boss was surprised and he called Zack, talked to him in his room, and then the boss asked him if he could make it for ^{all of us}. He said yes and after 20 years he came back gave him mini controller. After few weeks when he was reading the newspaper his picture was in it and then he became proud and then he realized he was a very famous person.

Invention story:

Invention story:

MAGICAL T-SHIRT

DESCRIPTION

It's not a simple t-shirt but it looks like a simple t-shirt. It has two buttons which are on the front side. When you press first button then you can change its colour, design and you can also change its size. When you press button number two, it can become raincoat, shirt, kurta, like these things. And you can change their size, colour and design. This will help you when you are in a party or somewhere else and something fell on your t-shirt. Then, you can change easily and quickly.

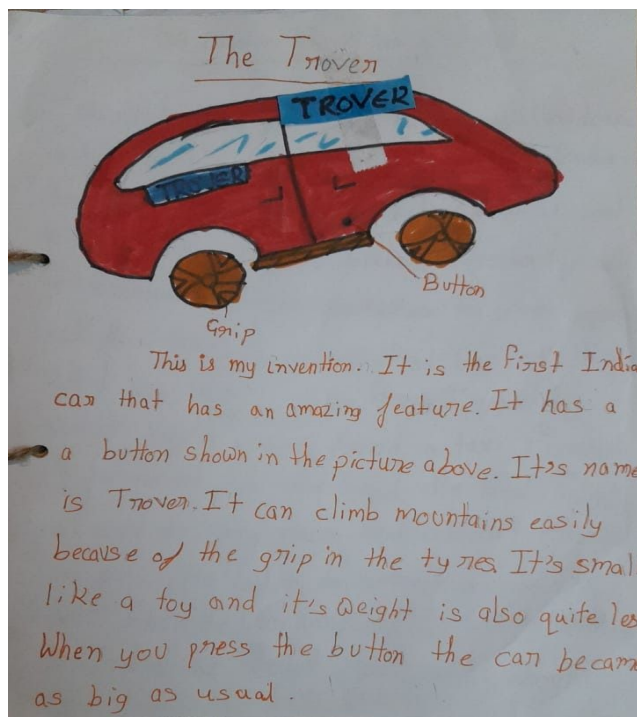

INVENTION STORY

There was a boy whose name is Tara. He lives with his family in a famous place. He had a dog in his house whose name was Alex. He had brown hair and big eyes. In Tara's family, they all love him. He was so cute and small. One day it was Tara's friend's birthday, he invited Tara to his birthday party. He got ready on that day and he wore a magical t-shirt which he invented especially for himself. He went to that party and a child accidentally poured sweets on Tara's t-shirt while he was having fun with his friends.

He said, "Sorry for the mistake." And then Tara said, "It's OK." He knew that he had worn a magical t-shirt. He did not need to go to the washroom to change the t-shirt. He pressed the second button which was on the t-shirt to change it. He easily changed it and he gave a gift to his friend whose birthday it was, which he invented. He had lots of fun in his friend's party.

Invention Story:

A Problem Always has a Solution

"Oh no! A problem again" said Raj holding a suitcase in his hands. He came to America from India for his job. He always had a problem, once he went to Canada ^{and} his umbrella broke. He couldn't find a new one because he didn't know where to go to buy it. But this time, he couldn't find any taxi. His hotel was 1 km away from the airport. Raj walked half a kilometre and found a taxi. Finally, he rented the taxi and reached the hotel. Finally, he went to many places and couldn't find any taxi easily. He had to do something about it. But what? He was confused. After returning to India he thought too much about what should he do. He searched on Google for some ideas. Asked his friends. But couldn't find any idea. Any way his sister was a scientist. Raj asked for help but his sister refused and said, "You have to find the way in your own ^{and} I will lend you things you need." He had a remote control car, he was driving ^{it} thinking what to do about the problem. Suddenly ^{and} he saw his niece blowing in a balloon. It blew up larger and larger and even larger. Now Raj had an idea. He could make a toy car which could become regular size by pushing a button and if you push it again it would become a toy again. He took his sister's help and made it. Now, he doesn't have any trouble with taxis. He is happy. He carries it while ^{his destination} travelling and when he reaches, he makes it a big car.

I told you a problem always has a solution.